

LULLABY OF LONDON

Pogues

^C ^F ^C ^F
As I walked down by the river side
^C ^F ^C ^C
One evening in the spring,
^C ^F ^C ^F
Heard a long gone song from days gone by
^C ^F ^C ^C
Blown in on the great North wind.
^F ^C
Though there is no lonesome cornrake's cry
^{Am} ^F
Of sorrow and de light,
^C ^F ^C ^F
You can hear the cars and the shouts from bars
^C ^F ^C ^C
And the laughter and the fights.
^F ^C
May the ghosts that howled round the house at night
^{Am} ^F
Never keep you from your sleep.
^C ^F ^C ^F
May they all sleep tight down in hell to night
^C ^F ^C ^C
Or wherever they may be.

^C ^F ^C ^F
As I walked on with a heavy heart
^C ^F ^C ^C
Then a stone danced on the tide,
^C ^F ^C ^F
And the song went on though the lights were gone
^C ^F ^C ^C
And the North wind gently sighed,
^F ^C
And an evening breeze coming from the East
^{Am} ^F
That kissed the river side.
^C ^F ^C ^F
So I pray now child that you sleep to night
^C ^F ^C ^C
When you hear this lulla by.
^F ^C
May the wind that blows from haunted graves
^{Am} ^F
Never bring you misery.
^C ^F ^C ^F
May the angels bright watch you to night
^C ^F ^C ^C
And keep you while you sleep.
